The Role of a Greek Organization Moderator

Greek Organizations must have at least one moderator to assist the organization, to provide an educational experience for its individual members and to be familiar with its programs and activities. A moderator is a consultant to an organization and assists in the growth and development of the group by providing direction through advice, understanding, and clarification.

The following is a list of duties that the moderator should fulfill:

- Clarify his/her role as moderator to the group members as he/she sees it.
- Read, understand, and act in accordance with college policies that govern registered student organizations and specifically Greek Organizations.
- Attend executive board and general meetings.
- Encourage and assist the group in setting organization goals; provide challenge and support as they strive for their goals.
- Advise and consult organization officers on budgets and other financial affairs.
- Assist the officers in understanding their duties and organizing programs.
- Encourage the officers to maintain accurate records.
- Stay up-to-date with developments within the organization.
- Assist in building a positive organizational environment by promoting active involvement, diversity, leadership and teamwork.
- Assist with the transition of officers and year to year changes.
